

To the Lower Elwha Community:

My name is Jericho Stuntz, I'm the son of Richard (Chooch) Stuntz and Angela Erickson, grandson of Joseph Killbright Stuntz and Ida Stuntz. I am honored to accept my nomination for candidacy for this years Tribal Council elections. I am looking forward to have the opportunity to get to know all of you better in the near future and become reacquainted with those of you I already know.

I have lived in the community my whole life and have seen the hardships we as a community have faced and I will do everything within my ability to help and provide our community with what our elders, youth, and people need. I will strive to make we as a community whole again by bringing back the teachings, and traditions of our ancestors.

It's time for change in our community, it's time for our elders, youth, and people to have a voice in the tribal government by knowing what the business committee is doing and have a say in tribal affairs.

Now is the time for all of your voices to be heard so let us stand together as one to not only make the changes needed for the Lower Elwha Klallam Tribe to thrive but to show what it truly means to be the "Strong People"!

Vote Jericho Stuntz for Tribal Council!
